

Summary of Proposed Changes

Comparison of 2000 Zoning Ordinance with proposed Zoning Ordinance

The Zoning Ordinance regulates land use in the Town of Allegany. It consists of both a text and a zoning map. The Town has had zoning since the mid-1980s. The current law was adopted in 2000 and has been amended, but not comprehensively reviewed, since then.

The proposed zoning ordinance includes changes to both the text and the zoning map. Some changes were made to revise outdated provisions, to reflect current best practices, and to allow activities that were not anticipated in 2000, such as the resurgence in brew pubs and micro-breweries. Some revisions were made to remove duplications and inconsistencies in the ordinance and to improve clarity and ease of use by Town staff, officials, and the public. Other revisions were made to bring the Zoning Ordinance into compliance with recommendations in the Town's 2011 Comprehensive Plan.

The proposed zoning ordinance retains the same general format of the current ordinance. The following table summarizes proposed major changes to the current Ordinance.

Current Zoning Ordinance II Effective May 2000	Proposed Zoning Ordinance Draft: November 2015
Article I. General Provisions This chapter contains several important sections, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● the authority to adopt zoning regulations (Section 1.02 Enacting Clause), ● the effective date (Section 1.04), ● the title of the ordinance (Section 1.03), ● the Intent and Purpose of the ordinance (Section 1.06) and ● the Severability clause (Section 1.05). ● Section 1.10 contains the Incentive Zoning regulations. 	Article I. General Provisions Few substantive changes were made to this chapter. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The introductory statement (former Section 1.01) was deleted, which resulted in a change in the numbering of subsequent sections. ● The Intent and Purpose provisions (now Section 1.05) were edited slightly for clarity and flow. ● The Exemption provisions (former Section 1.09) were revised and moved to Section 1.07, Application of Regulations. ● "Parks" and "housing for persons of low or moderate income" were added to the list of amenities in Section 1.09, incentive zoning, to be consistent with state enabling legislation.
Article II. Rules and Definitions This chapter contains definitions of terms used in the Ordinance.	Article II. Rules and Definitions <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Article II was extensively revised to ensure that all defined terms are used in the Zoning Ordinance and to ensure that all land uses listed in Schedule A, District Use Regulations, are defined. ● Definitions have been revised for clarity, and new definitions have been added. ● Definitions that were located in other sections of the ordinance (for example in former Section 5.20 Junk Ordinance) have been consolidated in this chapter, which reduces redundancy and contradictory definitions.

Article III. Establishment of Districts and Zoning Map This chapter lists all the zoning districts that are established in the Ordinance (Section 3.01) and incorporates the Zoning Map by reference (Section 3.02). Rules for interpreting district boundary lines are contained in Section 3.03	Article III. Establishment of Districts and Zoning Map No substantive changes were made to the existing provisions in this Article. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● A new Section 3.04 was added to provide regulations for lots that are located in more than one zoning district. ● A new Section 3.05 provides regulations for more than one principal use per lot. In particular, no more than one detached single family home may be constructed on a lot.
Article IV. District Regulations This important chapter contains the land use regulations and dimensional regulations that apply to each zoning district. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Section 4.02, Permitted and Special Permitted Uses, contains Schedule A, which lists all land uses that are permitted either as-of-right or with a special use permit in each zoning district. ● Section 4.03 Bulk and Coverage Controls (Schedule B): This Table contains dimensional regulations, such as minimum lot size, setbacks, and height limits, for each zoning district. ● Section 4.04 Single-Family Residential District (R-1) ● Section 4.05 Multi-Family residential district (R-2) ● Section 4.06 Agricultural-Forestry District (A-F) 	Article IV. District Regulations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Section 4.02 includes a new sub-section 4.02(B), to clarify that any land use that is not listed in Schedule A is not permitted in the Town, except through an amendment to the Ordinance. ● The format of Schedule A has been revised to group similar land uses together. Within each group, land uses are listed alphabetically, for ease of use. Schedule A was extensively reviewed to ensure that uses in each zoning district are appropriate. ● Section 4.03: The name of this section and Schedule B have been changed to "Dimensional Regulations." Some substantive changes have been made to the dimensional regulations: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ The height limit in the C-F Community Facilities District has been increased from 45 feet to 60 feet. ○ The I-2 Heavy Industrial District has been added to Schedule B. ○ Footnotes have been added both to Section 4.03 and to Schedule B to reference sections in the Ordinance that contain exceptions to the standards. ● Section 4.04 Single-Family Residential District: The minimum size requirements for dwellings have been moved to Section 5.08, Minimum Gross Floor Area ● The R-2, Multi-Family Residential Zoning District has been eliminated. Sections following Section 4.05 have been renumbered. ● No substantive changes were made to Section 4.05, Agricultural-Forestry District.

Article V. Supplemental Regulations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 5.18 Manufactured Home Regulations This section contains regulations for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Manufactured homes on a single family lot, ○ Mobile Home Courts, ○ recreational vehicles, and ○ dependent manufactured homes, which is a home used to house a dependent relative, as an accessory use. • Section 5.15 Sign Regulations This section contains a list of signs that are exempt from these provisions and also provides regulations for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ On premises pole and ground (freestanding) signs, which are limited to the C-1, I-1, and I-2 zoning districts only. Pole signs are limited to 20 feet in height and 40 sq.ft. in area. ○ On premises wall signs ○ Off premises signs (billboards and outdoor advertising). 	Article V. Supplemental Regulations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Section 5.09 Manufactured Home Regulations <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Regulations for Manufactured Homes on Individual Lots [Section 5.09(B)] have not changed. ○ Regulations for Manufactured Home Parks [Section 5.09(C)] were revised to add a requirement for a minimum of two parking spaces per unit and to require a setback from the interior roadway for both homes and parking. ○ Section 5.09(E), Dependent Manufactured Homes, was revised to add standards for approval. • Section 5.10, Home Occupations This is a new section. Current regulations for Home Occupations are located in the definition in Article II, which is not very clearly written. Currently, Home Occupations are designated as either allowed or permitted with a special use permit, depending upon the zoning district in which they are located, not upon the intensity of the proposed use. The new regulations establish a two-tiered system, in which home occupations with minor impacts are allowed as-of-right in zoning districts, while those with potentially greater impacts are allowed with a special use permit. In addition, some types of uses, due to their intensive characteristics, are prohibited as a Home Occupation. • Section 5.11 Auxiliary Dwelling Units This is a new section, which allows a second dwelling unit as an accessory use to a single family home, in some limited situations. • Section 5.12 Sign Regulations This section was reorganized, for clarity. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ A new table, Schedule C, summarizes the regulations for on-premises signs. ○ Freestanding signs are proposed to be allowed in all zoning districts, with the height limited to 6 feet in the R-1 District. No changes are proposed to the maximum height and size of freestanding signs in other districts. ○ Calculation of allowable size of wall signs was changed, in order to allow for larger signs on bigger buildings, which are in proportion to the size of the building. [Section 5.12(E)(2)(a)]. ○ Regulations for number of wall signs was changed to allow the maximum sign area to be divided among more than one sign on a facade [Section 5.12(E)(2)(a)]. ○ New regulations for Electronic Graphic Display Signs are included. [Section 5.12(3)(c)]. ○ Measurement rules are included [Section 5.12(I)].
